

For Members of the Faculty

Article Express

Members of the Princeton teaching faculty may request electronic delivery of journal articles, book chapters, and conference papers through this service. Articles from the print or electronic journal collections of the Library will ordinarily be delivered within 24–48 hours; materials from other sources may take longer. To use this service, follow the links from INTERLIBRARY LOAN on the Library home page. Contact: 609-258-7469.

Blackboard and electronic reserves

Princeton uses Blackboard as its campus-wide learning management system. Every Princeton course has a Blackboard site, which can include links to electronic journal articles, audio or video e-reserves, and scanned portions of printed materials.

Please submit your reserve requests as early as possible. Contact Alexander Brown (ab@princeton.edu or 609-258-7080) for help with e-book and e-article reserves, audio reserves, and video reserves.

Subject specialists in the Library (see pages 30–31) can provide research guides, recommend digital resources, and give assistance through online consultation.

Instructional services

Librarians in all campus libraries accommodate requests throughout the year for library orientation tours or research instruction.

If you would like to arrange library instruction sessions for your students, please contact the appropriate subject specialist (see pages 30–31) or Audrey Welber (abw@princeton.edu or 609-258-2880). Librarians will work with you to insure that the content of the library session meets your needs.

If you have a reference question or would like to discuss a library research project, please contact the appropriate subject specialist or send a message to refdesk@princeton.edu.
