What’s Ahead…

- May 20 – Lewis Film Series – Namib/Kalahari Deserts and Siwa Oasis
- May 26 – LETC Presents - Miniaturization
- May 26 - 29 – Reunions
- May 27 – Lewis Film Series - Auroras and Arizona Meteor Crater
- May 30 – University Holiday
- May 31 - Commencement

---

New Staff

Elaine Russian, Library Facilities Assistant, Financial and Office Services (erussian@princeton.edu, 8-0284), May 16.

Elaine’s previous position was in retail home furnishings. She started with a small local company over 30 years ago when they decided to enter a growth phase. During that time she worked her way up to Director of Operations and was responsible for opening over 20 stores.

Promotions

Barbara Wolf-Liebhart, Special Collections Assistant IV, Stokes Library, Deputy University Librarian, May 16. Barbara previously worked as a Prebindary Assistant in Tech Services.

Faith Charlton has accepted the position of Lead Processing Archivist, Manuscript Division Collections, effective May 9. Faith has been a Processing Archivist at Princeton since 2013 and will be promoted to Associate Librarian. Her office location, e-mail (faithc@princeton.edu) and phone number (x.8-3223) will remain the same.

The Dean of the Faculty’s office has announced the following promotions and granting of continuing appointment, effective July 1:

- Jarrett Drake, Digital Archivist, Mudd Library, promoted to the rank of Librarian
- Thomas Keenan, Slavic, East European and Eurasian Studies Librarian, Collection Development, promoted to the rank of Librarian
- Darwin Scott, Mendel Music Librarian, Deputy University Librarian, promoted to the rank of Senior Librarian

Continuing Appointment was granted to:

- Jeremy Darrington, Politics Librarian, Collection Development
- Willow Dressel, Engineering Librarian, Collection Development
- Rebecca Friedman, Assistant Librarian, Marquand Library, Deputy University Librarian
- Anne Marie Phillips, University Records Manager, Mudd Library, RBSC
- Gabriel Swift, Reference Librarian for Special Collections, RBSC

Retiring

On behalf of the staff at the Stokes library, I would like to congratulate Hattie Lively on her upcoming retirement from the Princeton University Library. Hattie has worked at the Library for 37 years and is currently the Coordinator for Stokes Library Operations. Her last day at Stokes will be June 28th.
If you have questions, comments, or suggestions, please fill out our form at http://library.princeton.edu/committee/letc/suggest

Training and Development Programs at Princeton University Library
(excerpted from the PULA Contract):
Supervisors are strongly encouraged to support employee attendance at training. Particular emphasis should be placed on attendance at those training activities which enhance the employee’s job skills in their current position or which help the employee to advance his or her career at the library. Bargaining unit staff shall be allowed to attend at least one training activity per month provided the training activity is directly related to enhancing job skills, provides orientation to a facilities or area that is directly related to the employee’s work or furthers their career development at the library.

Training Opportunities
Training at your desktop 24 hours a day:
http://mcgrawect.princeton.edu/learn-something-new-with-lynda-com/ Lynda.com offers a comprehensive list of online training courses on both technical and soft skill topics you can take right at your desk. These courses are free to all University staff, students and faculty with a valid Princeton NetID.

Other Training Opportunities at PU
There are lots of other training opportunities available from the Office of Information Technology, University Human Resources, Carebridge, and more. If you have questions, comments, or suggestions, please fill out our form at:
http://library.princeton.edu/committee/letc/suggest

Committee members
Dina Conte, Carol Houghton, Thomas Keenan, Angela Knox, Vicki Principi, Audrey Welber

Miniaturization:
A New Day and New Tools for the Paper Conservator
A discussion of how spectroscopic tools were used to examine and treat a 16th-century Aztec Map, a 16th-century Antwerp writing-table (or erasable notebook), and an early 19th-century hand-colored Philadelphia engraving

Presented by Ted Stanley, Special Collections Paper Conservator

Thursday, May 26th at 1:00 pm
Training room B-6-H in Firestone Library

To register for this session, go to Hattie came to Princeton in 1978 where she worked in Firestone Circulation and then in Firestone Reserves. In 1983 she transferred to the Woodrow Wilson School Library, located at the time on the first floor of Robertson Hall. In 2001, the WWS library merged with the Population Research Collection and moved to the lower level of Wallace Hall. The successful transition to the new space, now called the Donald E. Stokes Library, was in large part due to the outstanding efforts of Hattie and her dedicated team. In her years at Princeton, Hattie has earned the trust and respect of the WWS faculty and staff. She has served as a true Library diplomat to the visiting Ambassadors, UN advisors, and all WWS faculty who have called on her expertise to navigate the complexities of the Library. She has also served as the heart and soul of the Stokes Library.

Hattie will be greatly missed by the staff, students, faculty, and, most of all, her Library colleagues. Although we are sad to see her leave, we understand that she is ready to move on to the next stage of her life. Please join me and the staff at Stokes in wishing Hattie a healthy, happy and fun-filled retirement. (Nancy Pressman Levy)

Leaving

Andrea Baruzzi has accepted a position at Swarthmore College and will be leaving her position as Acting Head of the Lewis Science Library on June 30.

Lewis Science Library Film Series

World’s Greatest Geological Wonders

- May 20 – Namib/Kalahari Deserts and Siwa Oasis
- May 27 – Auroras and Arizona Meteor Crater
- Jun. 3 – Geologic Mini-Wonders and Planetary Wonders

Fridays Noon in Lewis 225

Questions? lfeis@princeton.edu or 258-3235

Mudd Library Brown Bag Talks

- Wednesday, May 25 at noon in the Harlan Room: Friends Research Grant Recipient, Andrew Kirkendall on "The Kennedy Brothers, Liberal Democrats, and Cold War Latin America."
Some Princeton Heraldry

An illustrated talk entitled “Some Princeton Heraldry” was presented by Dr. Henry L. Savage to members of the Staff Association... Dr. Savage, who has long been a student of heraldry, which he termed “the shorthand of history,” briefly described its origin and functions, and then mentioned some examples of heraldry to be seen in Princeton. He brought out the surprising fact that the University has no official coat of arms, a lack which has yet to faze architects and designers of beer steins. To demonstrate one of the ways in which heraldry can furnish information, he showed an early theological book from the Rare Book Department which had once belonged to Pope Pius VI, whose arms it bore, and which must have belonged to him after he was driven from Rome by the French armies because it incorporated a change in its design suggested by the troubles he underwent at the hands of the French. The problem of identifying certain details in the arms on an 18th-century iron fireback in Professor Labatut’s house, “Mayberry,” then led Mr. Savage to an account of the history of the English royal coat of arms from the time of Richard I to the present day...

Green-Pyne Leaf

Recognize that “1947” on the cover? It’s the cornerstone of the building you work in...Do you know The Green-Pyne Leaf’s cornerstone was laid in November, 1945 when Number I of Volume I was published – eleven pages of purple ink mimeographing, (but no handsome cover) with a forward by Mr. Boyd in which he said “You may be helping to write a history of the library and it’s staff and it’s activities by this staff publication”...

Do you know that the first editor was Mr. Lee, who nursed no less than four volumes (four years of work) through the press? The next two volumes were brought out under the aegis of Mr. Van Norman; and since the nominating committee had used up the only two members of the staff who could perform the Herculean task of editorship single-handed, the editor-ing of the present volume 7 is divided between Mr. Fleck and Mrs. McAneny.

Incidentally, that “1947” we mentioned... holds the answer to a fascinating mystery. In Mr. Boyd’s article about laying the cornerstone, Mr. Boyd says that the May 1 issue of the “Green-Pyne Leaf” was put in to the box that was buried in the cornerstone. Wouldn’t you suppose that Mr. Boyd referred to May 1, 1947? The box was sealed on June 12, 1947, and the other publications like the New York Times, all carried 1947 datelines. However on page four of...Mr. Boyd’s article there is a list of the contents of the box, and this list gives the Green-Pyne Leaf of May 1, 1946. I am afraid that the only way to find the answer is to tear out the cornerstone. Oh well, if they have to lay a new one, that will give Jean Cronce Daly a subject for a new cover.