

Language Materials Available at Firestone Circulation Desk

The language resources, formerly located in the Humanities Resource Center in East Pyne, are now available at the Firestone Circulation desk. The library provides students and faculty with access to instructional videos and textbooks for language study. These materials can circulate and be checked out by the Princeton University Community. Please visit <http://library.princeton.edu/vdl/languages> for more information.

Audio Materials for Circulation

Firestone Library provides audio CDs for circulation. The popular Michel Tomas Method, iPimsleur, Berlitz, and Assimil language programs are a great way to brush up on conversational language learning. These materials are searchable in the Princeton University Library Catalog. A list of all the materials we have in our collection to circulate are listed below:
