Proposed Length of Research Visit and Transportation Costs

These Library Research Grants, which have a value of $3,000 to $6,000 ($1,500 per week) plus transportation costs, are meant to help defray expenses incurred in traveling to and residing in Princeton during the tenure of the grant. The length of the grant will depend on the applicant's research proposal and the grants committees' review of the cited material. Based on the size of the collection(s) and number of items to consult, as well as the type of research to be conducted, please indicate the proposed number of weeks your research requires.

Proposed Length of Research Visit

Two Weeks ($3,000)
 Three Weeks ($4,500)
 Four Weeks ($6,000)

Traveling from where, and proposed dates of visit:

These dates can be tentative. You will have the opportunity to include more specific dates if you are awarded a grant. The grant is tenable from May 2025 through April 2026.

IMPORTANT NOTE REGARDING TAXATION:

This research grant is subject to U.S. income tax. If your project is funded, U.S. citizens and permanent residents will need to complete a W-9.

If you are neither a citizen nor permanent resident of the United States, tax in an amount of up to 30% will be withheld from your award unless you obtain a US tax ID prior to the start of your research visit. If your award is taxed, and your country has a tax treaty with the United States, you can try to recover the withholding by filing a U.S. tax return.

All non-citizen or non-resident grant recipients are required to complete the Substantial Presence Test form.

You do not need to submit any of these forms with your grant application. If you are awarded a grant, we will communicate with you about how best to submit the forms.

Are you a Citizen or Permanent Resident of the United States of America? (This is just to assist us with processing grant payment paperwork. It has no impact on your application.)

Yes
 No

By checking the box below, you understand that the Friends of the Princeton University Library Research Grant is a monetary award to support personal research in the library's special collections. This is not a fellowship and you are not considered an employee of the University during your research visit.

I understand

By checking the box below, you understand that access to the library is contingent on current COVID policies which may change over time with little or no notice.

I understand

By checking the box below, you understand that FPUL grant recipients are expected to spend the equivalent of grant-funded time conducting research in Special Collections. For example, a recipient receiving a two-week grant will be expected to spend roughly 75 hours conducting research during their visit.

I understand

Would you like to be contacted by the editor of the Princeton University Library Chronicle to discuss the possibility of publishing your research?
